DECLARATION OF AMY WILLIAMS

I, Amy Williams, declare as follows:

1. I am employed as Legal Assistant for the United States Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP). I am currently assigned to the South Carolina Consolidated Legal Center (SC CLC). I have been employed by the BOP since March 1997.
2. As part of the ordinary course of my duties, I provide legal assistance to staff at the four federal prisons located within the state of South Carolina. I have access to BOP records and official databases concerning, among other things, inmate administrative remedies and location information. I have reviewed responses to these requests at all three levels of review and I am familiar with the process. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and review of official agency records.
3. Inmates may challenge almost any aspect of their confinement through the Administrative Remedy Process. They generally file a Documentation of Informal Resolution, known as a BP-8, with their Correctional Counselor. The matter is investigated and the inmate is provided a response. Thereafter, if dissatisfied with the response, the inmate may file a formal Request for Administrative Remedy, known as a BP-9, with the Warden. If the inmate is dissatisfied with the Warden's response, he may file a Regional Administrative Remedy Appeal, known as a BP-10, at the regional level. If dissatisfied with the regional response, he may file a Central Office Administrative Remedy Appeal, known as a BP-11, at the national level.

4. There are specific time periods within which inmates can file their grievances under this administrative process. These time frames are set out in federal regulation. See 28 C.F.R. §542.14(a) (20 calendar days from date of incident for an institutional level grievance); §542.15(a) (20 calendar days of receipt of Warden's response to file regional appeal and 30 calendar days of receipt of regional appeal to file national appeal). If the inmate does not receive a response from the Warden, Regional Director, or the Central Office within the allotted time frame (including an extension of time), the inmate can consider the remedy or appeal as denied and proceed to the next level.
5. All formal requests are logged into the national database and are given a unique identifying number. An extension is added to the number which denotes the level at which the claim is filed. Subsequent appeals of an issue will have the same identification number with a different extension identifying the level where filed. The extension "-F1" indicates the filing was at the institution or field level. The extension "-R1" indicates the filing was at the regional level. The extension "-A1" indicates the filing was at the national level. If an appeal is rejected and re-filed at the same level, perhaps correcting the identified deficiencies, then the number will change but the letter will remain the same. For example, the extension "-R2" indicates the appeal was rejected at the regional level once and the inmate has re-filed, presumably after correction of the noted deficiencies.

6. A review of BOP records reveals that the Petitioner, Federal inmate Osman Ozsusamlar, Register Number (Reg. No.) 53271-054, failed to properly exhaust the Administrative Remedy process established by the BOP on the issue set forth in the above-referenced habeas petition.
7. Specifically, SENTRY reflects that as of April 10, 2018, the Petitioner has filed five sets of Administrative Remedies, namely 458267, 572813, 689736, 702420, and 918654, challenging the May 31, 2007, disciplinary proceeding (concerning the May 5 Incident Report). See Attached hereto as Attachment A is a true and correct copy of the Petitioner's Administrative Remedy Generalized Retrieval Report. A review of Attachment A, pgs. 002, 004, 005, 009, 010, 011, and 014 reveals that, of the eighteen administrative remedies submitted by Petitioner to challenge the May 31, 2007, disciplinary proceeding, all of them were rejected except for one.
8. SENTRY shows the only administrative appeal that was accepted and denied on this issue is 458267-R4. This appeal was accepted by the Northeast Regional Office on November 5, 2007, and denied December 5, 2007. Pursuant to the BOP's Records and Information Disposal Schedule System (RIDS), the BOP is only required to maintain three years' worth of prior administrative remedies. For that reason, Respondent is unable to provide the court with copies of 458267-R4 and the Northeast Regional Office's response denying the same. The Petitioner failed to appeal the denial of the Regional-level Appeal 458267-R4 to the BOP's Central Office and, thus, failed to exhaust his administrative remedies with regard to his challenge to the May 31, 2007, disciplinary proceeding.
9. In the Petitioner's most recent attempt to pursue his administrative remedies with regard to the May 31, 2007, disciplinary proceeding (Administrative Remedy 918654), the Petitioner was rejected at all three levels of the BOP administrative remedy program based on untimeliness. Generally speaking, an inmate has 20 calendar days from the date of the incident (within 20 calendar days from the date of the receipt of the DHO report) in which to file an appeal. See 28 C.F.R. § 542.14 (a). If however, an inmate can demonstrate a valid reason for the delay, the appeal can still be accepted. See 28 C.F.R. § 542.14 (b). The Petitioner was given multiple opportunities to submit staff verification demonstrating that he had a valid reason for the delay, and he failed to do so.

10. A review of the Petitioner's administrative remedy history indicates he has filed or attempted to file 145 administrative remedies since he has been in the BOP. Thus, it is obvious the Petitioner is clearly familiar with the administrative remedy process.

I declare under penalty of perjury, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my information, knowledge and belief.

Executed this 10th day of April, 2018, in Edgefield, South Carolina.
